President's Message

Dear CalGeo supporter,

Thank you for your interest in the CalGeo club here at Cal Poly SLO. As we continue into our second year of this club, we're excited to continue growing the chapter and fostering interest in geologic fields.

Our mission for this club is to connect students interested in geology, geotechnical, and environmental engineering to likeminded students and professionals across these industries.

We host general meetings for students to learn from local professionals and businesses, as well as outdoor events such as hiking and camping trips to bring students together.

Ashley and I restarted this chapter just last year, but already we've been able to get so many students connected to the industry. In just ten weeks, our meetings led to five job hirings throughout various companies connected to the club.

We're extremely grateful for supporters like you that inspire students to join these fields. We look forward to working with you and having another great year for CalGeo.

Thank you for your interest and support in our club!

About Us

Cal Poly CalGeo is a student chapter of the California Geotechnical Engineering Association (CalGeo). We are a nonprofit, student-run organization aiming to provide our members with resources to develop interest, skills, and connections in the geoprofessional workforce.

In the past, we have held informational sessions with practicing firms, held social events, coordinated professional development opportunities, and explored the geology of California. As we look forward, we have exciting plans to further student's knowledge in these fields. This year, we plan to continue our meetings and social events, as well as tour job sites, offices and labs. We also hope to host a field day to show students various geotechnical field equipment to deepen their understanding of on site work in the industry. We aim to be a primary resource for students interested in pursuing geoprofessional careers, including geotechnical engineers, civil and environmental engineers, geologists, hydrologists, and environmentalists. As a student chapter, it is our responsibility and privilege to be a welcoming student body for all students interested in geoprofessional opportunities.

Get Involved

We do our best to make this club as accessible to students as possible, and to do that we need your help!

Your sponsorships and donations will directly go towards meetings, networking and social events, field days, and our club t-shirts! Any monetary or personal involvement we receive from you directly influences student involvement in the club. Sponsoring Cal Poly CalGeo is an investment for our club and your company, as your support will help to benefit and promote the geotechnical field to future students here at SLO.
